

Matthew Hussong
600 SW Kenyon St. Seattle WA 98106
C: 251.327.7593
E: matthew.hussong@gmail.com

Education

2013: Bachelor of Science: Interdisciplinary Study of Futuristics and Applied Technologies
University of Alabama
Tuscaloosa, AL 35487
205.348.6010

Work Experience

Pactera, Inc.

Team Lead (May 2016 - Present)

Lead a fully remote team of relevancy judges for Bing Ads team in relation to a variety of internal flights of testing data.

Provide valuable feedback to developers to determine policy and contribute to guidelines.

Data Analyst (May 2015 - Present)

Judge the relevance of data for verification of Bing Maps data across a variety of tasks in several testing groups.

Provide valuable feedback to developers to determine policy and contribute to guidelines.

Develop automation scripts which increase speed and productivity for the judgement team based on repetitive inputs for common results.

Work with developers to implement suggestions to alter design to increase speed and productivity by improving user interaction and experience.

Participate in a special task-force to debug test applications.

Alatech, LLC:

Senior Computer Technician (Jan 2014 - May 2015)

End user technical support for personal computers, servers, printers and mobile devices

Design and construction of custom personal computers

Designed new website, company logo, and promotional materials

University of Alabama:

CHES IT Lab Tech Support (November 2011 - June 2013)

Provide End User Support for the College of Human Environmental Science Staff

Support 3 computer labs with 20+ machines each using software such as Symantec Ghost and Faronics DeepFreeze

Hobbies Or Special Interests

Built first desktop computer at age 12

Achieved Eagle Scout rank in the Boy Scouts of America.

3D printing and design within Blender

Varying proficiencies in C#, Java, HTML, CSS, JS, and Adobe Creative Suite

References available upon request